

Interstate Lacrosse Carnival in Melbourne

Lacrosse is making steady progress in Australia, and enthusiasts in Melbourne were given a treat last week. A carnival was held in the southern capital, and the whole of the Australian States were represented. Never before had there been such a gathering of lacrosse players in the Commonwealth, and considerable enthusiasm was displayed. Unfortunately the weather was not favorable for all the contests. The Victorians, who won the Australian championship two years ago at Adelaide, retained the title, and they had some easy wins. But then they have been playing the game longer than the others, the sport having been introduced into Melbourne as long ago as 1876. In connection with the present carnival Victoria made an excellent start, defeating South Australia by 11 goals to 2. The other
