

1976 Australian Lacrosse Tour of the USA, Canada and England playing 14 games over 2 months.

Youthful lacrosse side off overseas

By Peter Koshnitsky

Secretary of the Australian Lacrosse Council, Mr. C. Carr, today released the long-awaited list of the 1975 Australian Touring team.

The team comprises 23 players — nine from Victoria, eight from South Australia, and six from Western Australia.

Coach John Forrester, from South Australia, will have a well-balanced side with some experienced players but with an emphasis on youth. The side also has 11 players over 6 ft.

The team is: Coach, John Forrester (SA); assistant coach, Graham Hill (WA); co-captains, R. Scott (WA, 29) and R. Twomey (Vic., 25); M. Baliński (WA, 19), A. Bower (Vic., 20), J. Batkiewicz (Vic., 24), P. Carr (WA, 24), D. Carter (Vic., 20), G. Downsbrough (WA, 21), R. Duthy (SA, 22), A. Frederick (SA, 26), G. Gainsworthy (Vic., 24), M. Hillsberg (Vic., 21), W. Hobbs (SA, 22), N. Hudson (SA, 23), E. Jones (SA, 19), D. Joy (Vic., 20), G. Kennedy (WA, 18), P. Lynch (SA, 18), M. Raggatt (SA, 25), G. Spicer (Vic., 25), B. Thompson (SA, 28), G. Tillatson (Vic., 22), R. Turnbull (WA, 26).

Fourteen players are in the Australian side for the first time.

The team will depart from Melbourne on March 22 and return on May 15.

First will be a tour of the U.S. where it will play nine games with at least a three-day break between each game.

These will include Maryland University (University champions), Mount Washington Lacrosse Club (U.S. club champions) and Portland State College (U.S. college champions).

After the U.S. program the team will spend a week in Toronto and play against two Canadian sides.

They go to London on May 2 until May 10, and play a game against England and either the north or south of England side.

And on their return, the side will play a promotional game in Hongkong.

Victorians in lacrosse touring side

By JOHN RICE

Eleven Victorians will be in the Australian lacrosse team leaving next month on a world trip.

The Australian party of 23 players plus officials and supporters will be away eight weeks touring America, Canada and England.

The trip is to blood young players for the 1972 World championships to be held in Manchester.

Tour director is Ted Clayfield, of Caulfield club and his wife Joy will be team trainer and physiotherapist with Alan Chiron, of Williamstown, trip manager.

Victorian referee Bill Taylor is also in the party which includes players and officials from W.A. and S.A.

Mr. Chiron said all members of the party will pay their own way.

It's costing each player $1700 for fares before spending money.

Outlay for the whole party on tour is $80,000.

"We were disappointed in the government's decision to cancel all grants to Australian sporting bodies.

"Although it was expected, the Lacrosse Association was hoping for about $14,000 from the Government to subsidise our trip," said Mr. Chiron.

He said last year Lacrosse received a $5000 grant to help run the world championships in Melbourne.

Australia is at present rated second to America in world lacrosse.

The team will leave Melbourne on March 22 and play the first of 15 matches at Los Angeles on April 27.

READY TO TAKE ON THE WORLD

By Graham Rose

Western Australia is prominently represented in a contingent of 57 leaving Australia next month on a lacrosse jaunt around the world.

There are 23 players including four from WA, and WA's Frank Poat, 42, as assistant coach and two supporters from the Wembley club.

They will be away eight weeks. During this time they will play 14 matches in Canada (3), America (9) and England (2).

A highlight will be a four-way contest in Toronto (Canada) between Australia, America, Canada and a selected American college team.

Assistance

Each player is expected to pay out more than $2,000 for the trip. They have all been saving frantically over the last six months since the team was announced at the end of last season.

The players' individual clubs are partly assisting them financially, coupled with some support from the WA Lacrosse Association.

Cannberra's decision to prune financial aid to players in national team was a blow.

The WA players, Peter Cann, 25, Jeff Kennedy, 20, Mark Balinski and Gary Kennedy, both 19, have already had international experience.

Cann, Balinski and Jeff Kennedy have all played against visiting American sides. Baby of the team Gary Kennedy, has been picked because of his specialised skills as a goal-keeper.

Coach pleased

Cann was WA's leading goalscorer last season, scoring more than 100. He should be prominent in the heavy schedule of matches.

Last month national coach, Jean Forrester, of South Australia, visited Perth. After watching the WA players and consulting with his assistant Poat, he reported to the Australian selectors that he was extremely pleased with their preparation.

It will be Poat's second trip with the Australian team. He toured in the first side to travel overseas in 1962 as a defender, his will be Australia's fifth overseas trip since then.

Poat has had remarkable success as a coach. He led East Fremantle to a premiership last season and hopes to bring back to WA the best international coaching ideas and pass on this knowledge for the advantage of local lacrosse.

World series

Poat and Cann, both firemen, intend to study fire-fighting technique while overseas.

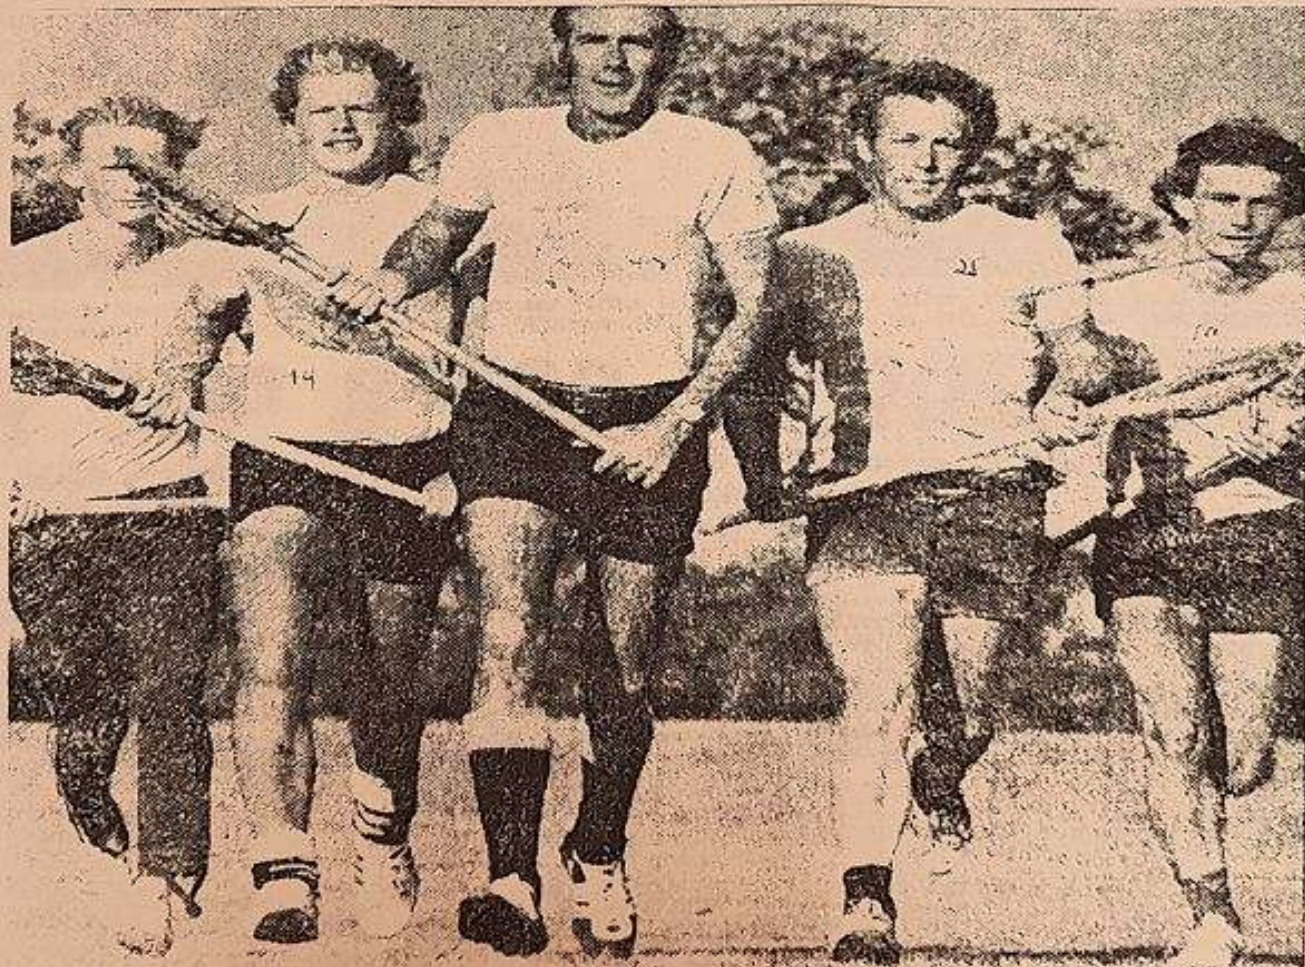

All players have eyes further afield with a view to the next World Series in Manchester, England, in 1978.

Before the next World Series a Canadian national team is expected to visit Perth and play during the Australian championships. It will be more than 70 years since a Canadian side visited WA.

Mark Balinski was fired by the enthusiasm of his father for the boy to go for selection.

The father, Harold Balinski, at 50, still plays every Saturday as goal-keeper for the Nollamara No 3, senior side.

He is envious of the opportunities offered to today's players to participate in international competition and only wishes he had been given the same opportunity.

Lacrosse gets soft touch

An Australian men's lacrosse team left for overseas yesterday — only the fourth team to tour since the game started here 102 years ago.

The team will play in the United States, Canada and England and return to Australia on May 8.

Lacrosse was first played here in 1874, and in 1962 the first team went away. Other tours followed in 1967 and 1972.

This is a tour with a difference — it's an all-male side, with a female physiotherapist.

By KEN KNOX

Joy Clayfield, wife of tour director Ted Clayfield.

Each of the 27 in the party had to raise hundreds of dollars because of the change of government.

Under the Labor Government (in power when the tour was first planned) much of the travel costs would have been met by Federal Government funds.

Under the Liberal Government the team gets nothing.

The team will play in Los Angeles and later in Florida,

Washington, Baltimore, Maryland and New York.

Then it will be on to Canada and an international series against Canada and two American teams.

Matches against English teams will follow in London and Manchester.

The team:
Officials: Ted Clayfield (director), John Forrester (coach), Alan Chiron (manager), Frank Post (assist. coach).

OUR TOP 8 FOR LACROSSE TOUR

Eight South Australians are in the Australian lacrosse team of 23 which leaves on an eight-week tour of the United States and Canada tomorrow.

SA will also provide the coach, John Forrester.

The eight players are Nigel Hudson, 24, of East Torrens; Paul Lynch, 19, youngest in the Australian side (Sturt); Warren Hobbs, 23 (Glenelg); Ray Duthy, 23 (Burnside); Leigh Vandeeper, 27 (East Torrens); Allan Frederick, 27 (West Torrens); John Tomlin, 21 (Glenelg); and Evan Jones, 20 (Brighton).

Forrester has coached East Torrens,

University, State Colts then the State side.

First of the tour's 12 games will be against the South California All-Stars in Los Angeles, followed by another against the Florida All-Stars at the University of Florida, Miami.

The New York game will be against the Long Island Athletic Club.

In Toronto, the Australians will take part in a four-team international tournament against a Canadian side and two from the U.S.

The Australian Lacrosse Council has chosen a young side with emphasis on big fast players.

The team will be a guide for that chosen for the next World series at Manchester in 1978.

The tour will end on May 15 when the team will fly to Tokyo via Moscow for two days' sightseeing.

—RAY BARBER.

'TOWN MEN FOR A TOUR

WILLIAMSTOWN Lacrosse Club is represented among players and officials of the Australia men's lacrosse team to tour the US, Canada and England from March until May next year.

The National team will be managed by Alan Chiron, of Williamstown club, who was a player with the last Australian team to tour overseas three years ago.

Players include Greg Garmsworthy, Ron Twomey, Geoff Spicer and John Butkiewicz.

A former Williamstown player, Graeme Hill, who moved to West Australia more recently, has been appointed assistant coach of the touring players.

The men's team has a woman physiotherapist, Mrs E. Clayfield. Her husband will be there, too — he's tour director.

The Australian women's lacrosse team, which invariably includes players from such clubs as Williamstown and Newport, plans to tour the US in 1977.

Footscray Women's Lacrosse Club disbanded before the 1975 Winter season.

However, the sport has been introduced among girls attending the Footscray Institute of Technology.

Miss Leonie Parker, of Williamstown, who is a physical education student at the institute, was behind the formation of the team. It plays in the Victorian women's competition on Saturday afternoons.

Lacrosse administrator Mrs Laurie Parker, of Williamstown, said yesterday it was hoped that lacrosse would be accepted as a team activity at the FIT. Play would be staged during the school week.

3 O.C. Stars On Lacrosse Team Vs. Aussies Saturday

Three Orange County Lacrosse Club players have been selected to the Southern California All-Stars for an international match with the National Australian lacrosse team Saturday, 1 p.m., at Cromwell Field, USC.

Defenseman Paul Gavin (Santa Ana), goalie Laz Babos (Diamond Bar) and midfielder Tom Cody (Orange) will join other outstanding players from the teams of the California Lacrosse Assn. to face the powerful Australians.

Gavin, named to the "All-California" team last year as a student at UC Santa Barbara, has developed into a bright, young star on the California scene. He is one of a growing new breed, a California grown lacrosse player capable of playing on a national level.

Lacrosse Winner

The Australian National lacrosse team defeated the South Florida All-Stars Tuesday at Florida International University, 31-5.

Lacrosse Team Meets Aussies Here Friday

Rated eighth in the country in the latest national poll, Washington and Lee University's lacrosse team hopes to get back on the winning trail with a pair of home games this week—today against Virginia Tech and Friday with the Australian All-Stars.

The Generals, now 3-2 for the year, lost a spine-tingling 8-7 decision to fourth-ranked Navy Saturday in Annapolis after the Midshipmen's Mike Canders fired in the winning goal with just 16 seconds remaining.

Coach Jack Emmer's team twice fought back from three-goal deficits, the last time overcoming a 7-4 Navy lead with three straight goals, the last one Rob Morgan's third goal of the day with just 1:29 remaining in the game.

Soon after that, with just 27 seconds left, W&L was ruled guilty of a holding infraction, and Navy then scored the winning goal in an extra-man situation.

The defense by both teams was outstanding, particularly in the goal. W&L's Charlie Brown had 18 saves.

Local lacrosse fans will have a chance to see what promises to be an outstanding game Friday when the Aussies invade Wilson Field for a 3 p.m. faceoff. The Australians feature some of the best lacrosse players in that country, which was host to the World Championship Games two years ago. The United States all-star team that won that 1974 World Tournament included former W&L players Skeet Chadwick and Ted Bauer, and W&L coach Jack Emmer helped coach the squad.

To help offset the Australians' expenses in their tour of the U. S., and also to help pay for a return visit of U. S. all-star players to Australia, there will be a nominal admission charge to Friday's game.

Advance tickets at a reduced price will be available at the W&L athletic office until 5 p.m. Thursday. Tickets may also be bought at the gate.

Visitors Hungry, Tuneful

'Billets' Welcome Aussies

by John Hughes

They came, they saw, they were conquered.

But they also conquered the hearts of all those who came into contact with them, those Australians who invaded the Lexington area last week.

When W&L lacrosse coach Jack Emmer issued a call for volunteers to "billet" the Australians, my wife and I at first hesitated, then decided it might be a lark. And we figured the kids would enjoy those people who talk funny and come from the land of kangaroos, wombats, koala bears, duck-billed platypuses and eucalyptus trees.

Attempts to line up the visiting Australians (23 players plus 35 assorted wives, girl friends and "team supporters") with compatible "billets" was largely haphazard, since little was known about the visitors before their arrival, except a list of names.

One "billeting" couple, a W&L student and his working wife, were on a very limited budget. When the team roster revealed they had the biggest Aussie of the bunch (14 and a quarter stone or over 200 pounds), they asked for a smaller Aussie, fearful their first one would eat them out of house and home.

The second one didn't eat much, but on the first night he consumed over two six packs of his host's beer. So much for the budget.

Whenever one billeting Lexingtonian ran into another one, inevitably the opening line of conversation would be: "Have you met my Aussie?" The "billets" spent considerable time comparing their Aussies and their oft-times strange eating habits, and no doubt the Aussies did the same when they weren't with their billets.

Besides such pleasurable pursuits as chasing girls (which is pretty universal), the Aussies apparently have two great loves—beer and beefsteak—and they consume both in great quantities at home. Our Aussies told us a good steak dinner in Australia costs $1.50 to $2.50. I figured Australians wouldn't want to come to America and drink Australian beer, so I stocked up on American brew. I was wrong. It was a land-office business at one local grocery store and a popular restaurant and "bistro" that had the foresight to stock up on a favorite Australian beer.

W&L won Friday's game, but it was the Australians, and their billets, who celebrated. Renditions of "Waltzing Matilda" and "Hooray for Clyde, He's A Horse's Head," flowed freely and often at several local bistros, far into Saturday morning.

Later that morning the Australians left on two chartered buses to continue their tour into the Baltimore area. For some of the farewell embraces and tear-filled eyes present, the souvenirs exchanged and the snapshots, you would swear those departing were lifelong friends, not just some foreign stranger who was here for only three short days.

The Australians got little or no outside help on their expenses, and most of them used up savings and borrowed money for the trip, which cost each of them several thousand dollars. One of my Aussies, a college senior, had borrowed $500 and probably will get so far behind in his studies he won't graduate this year. But he wasn't particularly concerned, because he said he could always delay his graduation, but this trip was a once-in-a-lifetime venture.

If and when there is a return trip to Australia, we might seriously consider hocking the family jewels to go along as a "team supporter." After all, we Americans have also been known to consume a beer or beefsteak or two.

The Aussies are coming!
The Aussies are coming!
The Australian National All-Star lacrosse team will play Washington and Lee's nationally-ranked lacrosse team in Lexington April 2. The Australians are made up of some of the best players in that country, and are presently on a nationwide tour of the U.S. playing the better teams in this country. Similar tours of the U.S. have been held in the past. Two years ago a group of U.S. All-Stars, including W&L's Skeet Chadwick, Ted Bauer and Coach Jack Emmer, toured Australia and won the World Games competition there.

Because the Australians must pay their own expenses, including travel from their country to the U.S. W&L will help meet those expenses with a nominal admission charge to the game in Lexington.

"I trust our students and all our fans realize this is not any 'ripoff,'" W&L coach Jack Emmer noted. "We normally do not charge for any of our regular season games, but this is an exception, and the small charge is certainly worth it. These are some of the best lacrosse players in the world, and it promises to be a very good game."

Half of the gate receipts will be used to help offset the Australians' expenses; the other half will be used to send U.S. players to Australia for the World Tournament Games, similar to 1974.

There will be an advance sale of tickets for the Australian game. All advance tickets will be $1.00 and available until 5:00 p.m. April 1 at the W&L Athletic Office (463-9111, ext. 227). At the game the admission will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for high school students and under.

The game will begin at 3:00 p.m. on W&L's Wilson Field.

W&L Triumphs 15-10

LEXINGTON—The Washington and Lee lacrosse team defeated the touring Australian All-Star Team 15-10 here Friday thanks to some strong scoring in the final period.

The Generals took a 4-1 lead, only to see it evaporate after the Australians scored three goals in 80 seconds at the close of the first period. After seven minutes into the second period, however, Jack Dudley scored and W&L never trailed after that, even though the Aussies came within one goal twice.

Lexington, Va. (Special)—Washington & Lee University, led by two Baltimoreans, defeated the Australian All-Star lacrosse team yesterday, 15 to 10.

The Generals took the lead early and never trailed in the contest, the second of the United States tour by the Australians. The visitors tied the game at 4-4 early in the second period but W. & L., on a goal by Donnie Carroll, went into a lead it never relinquished.

Rob Morgan had 5 goals; Carroll, from Gilman School, had 4 goals and four assists; Jack Dudley, from McDonogh, had 3 goals and an assist, and Chris Kearney had a goal and four feeds for the winners.

Peter Cann had 3 goals and an assist and Paul Lynch had 2 goals and five assists for the Aussies in the game that was played under international timing, four 25-minute quarters of running time.

W&L Lacrosse Romps Contenders

Playing some of their best lacrosse of the year, Washington and Lee romped over Virginia Tech, 23-2, and defeated the touring Australian National All-Stars, 15-10, last week.

Freshman Chris Kearney and sophomore Jay Sindler led the scoring barrage against hapless Virginia Tech. Kearney scored four goals and assisted on three others, while Sindler also had four goals.

The game was never in doubt as W&L rolled to an 18-0 lead before Tech scored late in the third period. Other top scorers for the Generals were Rob Morgan (three goals, one assist), Don Carroll (2 and 3), and Mark Derbyshire and Johnny Black (two goals apiece).

By contrast, Friday's game with the Australians was a close, exciting contest. The Generals jumped to early leads of 2-0 and 4-1 and never trailed, although the Aussies tied it at 4-4 and closed within one or two goals several times.

W&L held a tenuous 11-9 lead after three quarters, then broke the game open on a pair of goals by Don Carroll in the fourth quarter.

Morgan (five goals), Carroll (four goals, four assists) and Kearney (1 and 4) led the W&L scoring, with Jack Dudley chipping in with three goals and an assist and Sindler adding two goals and one assist.

Goalie Charlie Brown led the pesky W&L defense with 22 saves, while the Australian goalie, Even Jones, had 19. Top scorers for the Aussies were Paul Lynch (two goals, five assists), Peter Cann (3 and 1) and Ray Duthy (2 goals).

Now 5-3 overall and 4-2 against college competition,

W&L will take to the road to Long Island on their annual Spring trip following exams. The Generals will face strong Hofstra April 14 in a night game and C. W. Post April 17.

A kangaroo mascot came to the Washington and Lee game against the Australians to cheer on both teams in lacrosse last week. Washington and Lee won 15-10.

LACROSSE PLAYED 'DOWN UNDER' can be just as rough as in the United States, as is evidenced by this picture from last week's game between W&L and the National Australian All-Stars. Despite harrassment by Australia's Allan Bower (left) and goalie Evan Jones, W&L's Chris Kearney (34) scored one goal and assisted on four others in the 15-10 W&L win.

Morgan (five goals), Carroll (four goals, four assists) and Kearney (one and four) led the W&L scoring, with Jack Dudley chipping in with three goals and an assist and Sindler adding two goals and one assist.

Goalie Charlie Brown led the pesky W&L defense with 22 saves, while the Australian goalie, Evan Jones, had 19. Top scorers for the Aussies were Paul Lynch (two goals, five assists), Peter Cann (three and one) and Ray Duthy (two goals).

Now 5-3 overall and 4-2 against college competition, W&L will travel to Long Island on their annual spring trip following exams. The Generals will face strong Hofstra April 14 in a night game and C. W. Post April 17.

Touring Aussie ten meets Mt. Washington tonight

By JAMES H. JACKSON

Mount Washington Club will play the touring Australian All-Star Lacrosse Team at Norris Field tonight at 8.30.

The Aussies, on a world-wide tour that will take them to Canada for the World Lacrosse Tournament, Europe, England and Far East before returning Down Under, are currently 1-1 against United States teams.

Australia, which will face Mount Washington, Long Island A.C. and Team Canada in the World Tournament in Toronto, Ont., next month, has beaten the Southern California All-Stars and lost to Washington and Lee University in its two games so far.

The Wolfpack, defending U.S. Club Lacrosse Association champion, is currently on a two-game losing streak after winning its first three games of the season.

Mount Washington has lost to Cornell and Maryland on successive weekends after sweeping past Virginia, Washington and Lee, and Hobart.

"We are looking forward to playing the Australians," said Mount Washington coach Joe Seivold. "It should be a very interesting game and we are hoping a lot of fans show up to see how the Aussies play."

Tonight's game will be the first of three in the Baltimore area for the Aussies. Sunday they will meet the University of Maryland at Byrd Stadium in College Park at 2 P.M. and a week from Wednesday they will play Chesapeake Lacrosse Club at Towson State at 8 P.M.

The game with Mount Washington will be played under international timing—four 25-minute quarters of running time—and international rules that differ slightly from U.S. standards.

After playing the Wolfpack, the Australians will tour the city zoo tomorrow where Mayor Schaefer will proclaim them honorary citizens of Baltimore. Tomorrow evening the team will be guests of WBAL-TV on the Maryland State Lottery Game.

Thursday, the Aussies will make an all-day tour of the nation's capital. Saturday they will be in Annapolis to tour the Naval Academy and be guests at the Princeton-Navy lacrosse game.

Monday, the Australians will be guests at the Orioles-New York Yankee game at Memorial Stadium.

Following their game April 14 against Chesapeake, the Aussies will leave for New Jersey where they will meet Rutgers University. They will also play games on Long Island and in Syracuse before moving to Toronto for the World Tournament, which is being held in conjunction with the 1976 Olympic Games.

Other games today find Loyola playing Western Maryland in Westminster at 3 P.M.; Hofstra at Brown and Gettysburg at Dickinson.

A full schedule of games is on tap for tomorrow with Navy traveling to Chestertown on the Eastern Shore to meet Washington College; University of North Carolina at Towson State; University of Baltimore at Frostburg State; Georgetown at Morgan State; William and Mary at St. Marys; Salisbury State at Mount St. Marys; Swarthmore at Delaware; Syracuse at Hobart; Franklin and Marshall at Penn State; Cornell at Rutgers; Bowdoin at Harvard, and Yale at Wesleyan.

Cortland State, defending National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division champion, will be opening its season tomorrow when it plays at Geneseo State College in upstate New York. Geneseo has played one game this season, losing to Washington College.

Aussie Stickers Here Tonight

The touring Australian All-Star lacrosse team plays Mt. Washington tonight at Norris Field at 8.30 P.M. The boys from Down Under are on their way to Canada for the International Tournament in Toronto, May 1-2. Also competing in the International tourney are Mt. Washington L.C., Long Island L.C., Canada and Australia. The Aussies surprised Mt. Washington and several other local teams with their quality of play four years ago when they were in town. Upon returning from the Canadian tournament the Aussies will play the University of Maryland April 11.

Wolfpack Gets Lesson In Down-Under Tactics

By Dutch Snyder

Mount Washington's Doug Radebaugh, who starred at the University of Maryland, is considered one of the best face-off middies in the lacrosse world.

Last night, however, he met the best as the Mount lost a close game to the Australian National team 20-19.

John Butkiewicz did not do all the facing-off for the Aussies but he may in the future. The Victoria native was unstoppable when it came to the draw ball. With his help the Aussies controlled 29 of 41 face-offs.

"He used a narrower box lacrosse stick," explained Radebaugh. He was under my stick from the start. His stick also had a deep pocket. But, to his credit, he is quick."

On the face-off Butkiewicz paused to draw the wing middies into the action, then he seemed to turn his stick and pop the ball out behind him. From there it was an easy run to retrieve the ground ball. The few draws he did lose occurred when the wing middle happened to be in the right position behind Butkiewicz.

What was Butkiewicz's secret?

"Just that—my secret," he said. "Face-offs are a personal thing. Besides I can't tell the opposition my secret."

Butkiewicz was very defensive when asked about the narrow stick.

"It's a seven inch stick," he said. "I used one this width in the International Games in 1974. Against six inch box lacrosse sticks I still won the face-offs."

Butkiewicz did more than win the face-offs for the Aussies. The rugged middle scored three goals.

But that was not the best for the down-under squad. Ray Duthy had six scores, his last the game-winner with 2:20 left in the contest. Lee Vandeeper chipped in three goals and three assists.

The Australians shot hard and accurate from anywhere inside the restraining line. They also played an aggressive physical game. When it came to the rules the visitors did what the traffic would allow.

The three referees, two local and one Australian (who was more familiar with the international rules) had their hands full with a total of twenty-two penalties.

It was probably the bend-the-rule tactics and numerous penalties that caused Wolfpack coach Joe Seivold's "No comment" after the game.

Aussies nip Wolfpack, 20 to 19

By JAMES H. JACKSON

Ray Duthy's goal on a feed from Paul Lynch with 2:40 left to play gave the Australian National Lacrosse Team a 20-to-19 victory over Mount Washington Club before more than 2,000 fans at Norris Field last night.

The tally by Duthy, who led all scorers with 6 goals, was the first time that the Australians had been ahead in the rough and tumble, penalty-filled contest.

Mount Washington, which has now lost three straight games, jumped into a 1-0 lead 15 seconds after the opening faceoff of the game on an unassisted goal by Rick Gilbert.

The Wolfpack, defending United States Club Lacrosse Association champion, increased its lead to 5-1 before the Aussies, who were winning for the second time in three games on their United States tour, started to rally.

"No comment" after the game.

The Australian coaches as well as the team were elated with the win. Coach John Forester, who was here in 1962 for a similar tour, found the type of game closer now than it was a decade ago. He sighted the new international rules as the reason.

Forester was happy with the officiating, calling it "excellent."

This was the Mounties' third loss in a row.

Last Saturday night the Wolfpack dropped a game to the powerful University of Maryland. A week before that the Pack lost to Cornell University.

This Sunday it returns to the club schedule with a division game with Maryland Lacrosse Club at St. Paul's School (2:30 P.M.)

The Aussies' next area game is against the University of Maryland this Sunday at College Park.

It is possible that the Mounties will face the Aussies again in the Canadian International Tournament in Toronto May 1-2.

Mount Washington led, 6-3, at the end of the first period, which was 25 minutes of running time; 10-8 at the half, and 15-12 after three quarters. But in the final 25 minutes, the fleet-footed men from Down Under outscored the Mounts, 8 to 4, to pull out the victory.

"It was a bloody wonderful win," said a jubilant J. L. Forester, the Aussies' coach. "It took us a little while to get used to the lights, but after that we were all right."

The Aussies were vastly superior to the 'Pack in faceoffs, controlling 29 of 40 in the contest, and Forester attributed this to John Butkiewicz, who was in on almost all of the draws for the Australians.

"He is just great on the faceoffs. He is very strong and quick and there are not many who can beat him," Forester said.

He also said that his team, which appeared to run away from the clubmen in the final 25 minutes, is a very young team. "Our average age is 22. We brought a very young team along, hoping that they would learn something by the trip," he said.

But it may be the Aussies who will be doing the teaching, as they used an aggressive style of play, double- and triple-teaming the Wolfpack on defense and delivering hard body and poke checks all over the field.

Joe Seivold, the coach of Mount Washington, said after the contest, "I have no comment whatsoever."

In addition to Duthy, Lee Vandeeper had 3 goals and three assists for the Aussies, while Butkiewicz had 3 goals and Jeff Kennedy and Ron Twomey had 2 each. Lynch had three assists.

Don Krohn and Dave Warfield each had 4 goals for the losers, and Warfield added three assists.

Evan Jones was outstanding in the Australian goal, making 16 saves, many of the point-blank variety.

The Australians' next game in the area will be Sunday against the University of Maryland in Byrd Stadium, College Park, at 2 P.M. A week from tonight, they will face Chesapeake Lacrosse Club at Towson State at 8 P.M.

Aussies top lacrosse card today

Two big games—one at College Park and the other at St Pauls School in Brooklandville—are the feature attractions of the local lacrosse schedule today.

The University of Maryland, defending National Collegiate Athletic Association University Division stick champion, will entertain the touring Australian national team at Byrd Stadium at 2 P.M. and Mount Washington Club, defending United States Club Lacrosse Association champion, will begin defense of that title when it meets unbeaten Maryland Lacrosse Club at St. Pauls at 2.30 P.M.

Other games today involving area teams find Grasmick L.C. playing Montgomery L.C. at 2 P.M. at Boys Latin School in a Marbury Division game; Pennsylvania L.C. at Eastern Shore at 2 P.M.; Chesapeake L.C. at Long Island A.C. at 2 P.M. and Howard L.C. at Harrisburg L.C. at 2 P.M.

Keystone will be at West Chester; New York at Brine; New Jersey at Metropolitan and Mohawk at Fairfield in other USCLA games today.

The Terrapins, unbeaten in four games this season including a victory over Mount Washington, will tackle the Aussies who surprised area fans last week by also beating Mount Washington.

The Aussies are 2 and 1 on their United States tour, beating the Southern California All-Star in addition to the Wolfpack, and losing to Washington & Lee University.

Mount Washington, which won its first games of the season (Virginia, Washington & Lee and Hobart) has dropped its last three in a row, bowing to Cornell in addition to Maryland and Australia.

Coach Joe Sievold hopes his charges will rebound today against a young and hungry MLC ten.

Leading the Wolfpack are attackmen Butch Fisher, Rick Gilbert, Don Krohn and Dave Warfield; midfielders Bobby DeSimone, Gary Handleman, Bill McCutcheon, Hugh Mallon, Doug Radebaugh and Jim Ulman; defensemen Ira Hochstadt, Dennis Townsend, Bruce Mangelis and Boo Smith and goalie Dave Creighton.

Beating Maryland is another matter.

STICKY STUFF: The Terps (3-0) play the Australian touring team Sunday at 2 P.M. in Byrd Stadium...The Aussies' win over Mount Washington makes that an attractive matchup.

The weekend's other big game is in Charlottesville tomorrow (11.45 A.M.), where Johns Hopkins (4-1) meets Virginia (4-1)...The Wahoos are coming off their biggest win of the season, last week's 21-8 drubbing of a Washington College team that apparently forgot to stop toasting its win over Hopkins.

Terps rout Aussie ten by 22-10

College Park (Special)—The University of Maryland lacrosse team, despite playing without midfielder Frank Urso and defenseman Mike Farrell, both of whom were injured, still routed the touring Australian All-Star team, 22 to 10, yesterday in Byrd Stadium.

The Terps, now 5-0 against all competition, broke open the ball game in the second and third quarters by outscoring the Aussies, 16 to 6.

Attackman Ed Mullen and Roger Tuck, who was switched from midfield to attack for the game, paced the Maryland offense. Mullen had 5 goals and five assists and Tuck had 4 goals.

Bert Caswell, who rotated between attack and midfield during the contest that was played under international rules with 25-minute quarters of running time, had 3 goals and two assists.

The Terps scored 7 goals in the second quarter for a 9-4 half-time lead and added 9 more in the third quarter as Tuck scored 4 in a row. Maryland scored 7 goals in the first 12 minutes of the third quarter.

Peter Cann had 4 goals for the Aussies, now 2-2 on their tour, while Ray Duthy had 2. Paul Lynch had four assists for the visitors who play Chesapeake L.C. Wednesday at Towson State at 8 P.M.

Aussies, Chesapeake to clash

By JAMES H. JACKSON

Chesapeake Lacrosse Club, one of the favorites for the United States Club Lacrosse Association championship after its rout of Long Island Athletic Club Sunday, will play the Australian All-Stars at Towson State College's Burdick Field at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Aussies, who will be completing their Baltimore visit tonight, are 2 and 2 on their U.S. tour, having beaten the Southern California All-Stars and Mount Washington Club and losing to Washington and Lee University and the University of Maryland.

Chesapeake has won four straight without a loss this season.

Other games involving local teams today find the University of North Carolina playing the Naval Academy in Navy-Marine Corps Stadium at 3.30 P.M.; Washington College at University of Maryland-Baltimore County at 3 P.M.; Bucknell meeting University of Baltimore at Speer Field on Rogers avenue at 3.30 P.M.; Stevens Tech at Western Maryland College at 3 P.M. and Towson State at unbeaten University of Delaware at 3 P.M.

Chesapeake, which finished second to Mount Washington in last year's South Central Division race of the USCLA, has been beefed up this season by several new players, including attackman Jack Thomas, the Johns Hopkins All-America who sat out last season.

With Thomas joining Chooch Turner on attack, Chesapeake has one of the most potent front lines in lacrosse.

Other newcomers are Hobart star Chris Greene, who scored 5 goals in Chesapeake's 22-to-7 win over Long Island Sunday; Jeff Benson, from UMBC, and Mike Riley, a defenseman from Hopkins.

Coach Phil Kneip, in his first year as head man with Chesapeake, has excellent midfielders in Jim Potter, John Brizendine, Owen Daley, Ty Cook, Mike Cordrey, Bob Shriver, Ted Bauer, Harry Stringer, Dave Miller, Val Curran and Craig Unruh.

Defensive coach Joe Harlan has veterans Paul Weiss and Jim Bradley at close attack, plus goalie Skeeter Chadwick.

Chesapeake has played the Australians twice previously, in 1967 when it was the University Club and in 1972 as Carling, and won both contests.

The Aussies, who have been staying in Baltimore for two weeks, will travel to New Brunswick, N. J., tomorrow where they will meet Rutgers University Friday and then to New York where they will face Long Island Athletic Club.

Aussie stickers outlast Chesapeake L.C., 13-11

The Australian All-Star lacrosse team ran circles around Chesapeake Lacrosse Club in the first half, then hung on for a 13-to-11 victory last night to establish itself as the favorite in the world tournament in Toronto May 1-2.

A marksman from Perth, in Western Australia, by the name of Peter Cann was the man who put the Down Unders on the upper side of the score board with 5 goals in a remarkable display of stick handling and dodging before 3,500 fans at Towson State College.

The Australian victory was its second over what was supposedly the best club lacrosse teams in America—Mount Washington was also a victim.

Australia scored 6 goals in the first period, 3 in the second but then tailed off to 2 and 2 in the third and fourth quarters as their slim squad of 21 started to drag.

Chesapeake's big quarter was the third when they scored 6 goals, but with a multitude of chances to score in the last period, including a 3-up situation with one of the penalized Aussies being the goalie, the Baltimore team could not put the ball in the net and that was their final downfall.

Phil Kneit, coach of Chesapeake, admitted the international rules caused his team some trouble, but said, "They are a great passing team with excellent stick work and deserve to win."

Cann, the little speedster said, "I never believed we could do it. We had two men sick and we were getting tired but we scored early and that helped."

Aussie Stick Team Heads North: Battered, Bruised—And A Winner

By Dutch Snyder

The touring Australian lacrosse team is leaving the Baltimore area, heading north to play Rutgers and other northern schools before a May 1 appointment at the Toronto Invitational Tournament.

With their departure, the Aussies leave: sore arms, shell-shocked goalies, many hangovers and area lacrosse fans with the memory of a good stick-handling, fast-paced brand of lacrosse.

Last night the boys from Down Under left the Chesapeake L. C. upside down.

Chesapeake with a decided manpower advantage and more depth in the midfield than any other area club, could not keep up with the hard-shooting Australians, the visitors winning a 13-11 match.

The Aussies have only 23 players traveling with them. Last night two (John Tolin and Bill Strahmer) were out with flu, reducing their number to 21. Chesapeake dressed 36.

But the Aussies did not let lack of bodies stop them from playing their brand of lacrosse. The visitors jumped to a quick 5-0 lead and never trailed. By halftime they were ahead 9-3, which followed their game plan.

"We had to go on top quickly," said Australian coach John Forester. "We hoped we could put all our eggs in one basket. It worked. Two of our boys had to sit out, and several are still feeling the effects of the flu so we needed that early lead."

The Aussies followed their plan to perfection. For one half they out-bustled, out-shot, outhit and out-scored the Chesapeake Club.

But then the bottom dropped out. Australia scored only four goals in the second half while giving up eight. But the Chesapeake Club was never allowed too close. Twice in the fourth quarter Chesapeake closed the gap to one goal. Just as quickly the Australians scored the insurance goal.

By the fourth quarter the normally accurate Aussie ball handling began to get sloppy. Some of the zip was gone from the comet-like shots and the loose balls were not hounded as they had been in the first half.

"I'm really tired," said attackman Peter Cann after the game. "I began to feel it in the end of the third period."

Cann, the top goal scorer with five, played most of the fourth quarter with bruised, possibly broken, ribs.

"My ribs hurt like hell", said Cann, "but I'm glad we held on to win."

Topping the Aussie scoring list, along with Cann, was Lee Vandeeper with one goal and four assists. High scorer for the losers was Scooter Dorney with three goals.

The Australians leave with a 2-1 record. They defeated Mount Washington 20-19, and lost to the powerful University of Maryland 22-10.

In Toronto they will have another shot at Mt. Washington, as well as Team Canada and the Long Island L.C.

AUSTRALIAN STAR — Warren Hobbs, center midfielder, will be with the Australian National lacrosse team which meets Rutgers in an exhibition game on the Busch Campus Field tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Australians face Rutgers

NEW BRUNSWICK — The Rutgers lacrosse team will be in for a fierce battle tomorrow night when it faces a powerful Australian National squad in an international exhibition game on the Busch Campus Field in Piscataway.

The Australian team, which is on a month-long tour of the United States, has won three of its first four games while posting some very impressive victories. On their first stop in Los Angeles, Calif., the Australians defeated the Southern California All-Stars, 18-6. Three days later they annihilated the Florida All-Stars in Miami by an amazing 31-5 score.

The competition in the East has been quite a bit tougher. The Mount Washington Lacrosse Club lost a tight 20-19 contest, but Washington and Lee came through with a 15-10 upset victory over the Australians.

"It's going to be a real tough game for us," said Scarlet lacrosse coach Tom Hayes, whose stickmen are 2-3 on the year. "They're the national team of an entire country — we're just the team of a college."

Peter Cann, a 24-year-old forward, is the leading scorer for the Australians. He's a fireman when not playing lacrosse and was a standout for the West Australian Juniors, Colts and Seniors.

Ray Duthy and Ron Twomey are the team's co-captains. Duthy, a 22-year-old accountant, plays midfield and attack while Twomey, the other fireman on the team, plays center midfield.

During the Australians' three-day stay in New Brunswick, the Rutgers Lacrosse Club has arranged for the team and the official visiting party to be housed and fed at individual homes. A banquet has been set-up for the visitors tomorrow April 16.

Prior to the international game, the Rutgers JVs will play the County College of Morris at 3:30 p.m. and Montclair will face Hunterdon Central in a high school lacrosse contest starting at 5 p.m. The feature event will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Aussies give Rutgers a lesson

By KEN O'BRIEN
Home News sports writer

PISCATAWAY — Australia's touring national lacrosse team last night gave Rutgers a fine lesson in the sport while trouncing the Scarlet Nights, 18-7, before a crowd of nearly 1,000 on the Busch campus field.

Warren Hobbs, an accountant from South Australia, and Peter Cann, a fireman from West Australia, scored three goals apiece to lead the Aussies who offered a well-balanced attack that proved too much for the Scarlet to handle.

Hobbs scored the first Aussie goal a minute and 45 seconds after the start and Rutgers trailed the rest of the way.

Still, the Scarlet trailed by only 7-5 at halftime and they closed the margin to 7-6 after 4:35 of the third period on a goal by Steve Marshall from an assist by Bob Rhodes.

After that, however, the Aussies moved into high gear, scoring the next four goals to carry an 11-6 lead into the final quarter and then scoring the first three goals of the final session for a 14-6 cushion that wrapped it up.

Cann, who was scoreless through the first half, scored his first goal in the third period and added two more in the fourth.

While Australia had seven players scoring at least two goals, only Rutgers sophomore Jerry Gaughran of East Meadow, N.Y., managed as many as two goals — both coming in the first period.

"It took us a half to get our legs going," complained Australia Coach John L. Forrester, "and we also had some difficulty with the lights, but I was pleased with our effort. Rutgers has a good, young team."

He added, "We have nine bloody games left," noting the tour includes games against the Long Island Athletic Club and Cortland (N.Y.) State University before moving to Canada and then to England.

Rutgers Coach Tom Hayes took the loss lightly.

"We've been talking all week about our game Sunday (tomorrow) against Adelphi," he said. "That's the important one for us right now. This game was just a spectacle for us. We really didn't prepare for it; we didn't scout them or anything like that. This was just like a Friday practice for us."

Rutgers currently owns a humble 3-3 record with wins against C.W. Post, Army and Bucknell and losses against Navy, Penn and Cornell.

"We have four games left and our kids realize we have to win all of them if we're going to make the playoffs," Hayes continued. "Our season hasn't been disappointing but we've been playing a tough schedule on the road. Other than the Penn game (a 14-3 whipping) we have played well. Our wins against Bucknell and Post were not artistic but they were wins and we've been pointing to the Adelphi game since we played Bucknell (last Saturday)."

Hayes admitted to confusion about different rules for last night's game that included 25 minutes running time for each quarter instead of the four 15-minute periods played by the colleges.

"We didn't know what the hell was going on out there with all the substitutions," he asserted. "But we just lost it in the second half when we couldn't put the ball in the hole. But they (Australia) have a fine team and they've been doing well on the tour and I'm sure they'll continue to do well."

The Aussies have now won five of their seven games on their tour of the United States, including a 31-5 rout of the Florida All-Stars and an 18-6 victory over the South Carolina All-Stars. The other wins have come against Mt. Washington and Chesapeake while losing only to Washington & Lee (15-10) and Maryland (22-10).

After Hobbs had given the Aussies their early 1-0 lead, Lee Vandepuer scored on an assist from Jeff Kennedy for a 2-0 edge a minute-and-a-half later.

Rutgers, meanwhile, could not score until 6:20 had elapsed when Gaughran tallied on an assist from Jim Teatom, narrowing the margin to 2-1.

Australia's John Butkiewicz then scored an unassisted goal before Gaughran scored again for Rutgers on another assist from Teatom for a 3-2 count. However, Ron Twomey gave the Aussies a 4-2 lead before the end of the first period on a feed from Paul Lynch.

Twice in the second quarter the Aussies built up three-point leads, 5-2 and 6-3, before the Scarlet rallied on a goals by Rhodes and Lou Cirillo that narrowed the count to 6-5. But Twomey scored his second goal with 50 seconds left before halftime that supplied the 7-5 margin.

Postel the one

By MIKE DYER

It's been 10 years since Tom Postel was scoring his goals for C.W. Post College. Now 31 years old and coach at Suffolk Community College, the 31-year-old Postel had his finest performance ever last night as the Long Island Athletic Club took a look at international rules.

Postel, who lives in Medford, scored six goals in the opening quarter as the LIAC took an 11-0 lead before finally subduing the touring Australian National Lacrosse Team, 22-15, at Hofstra Stadium in Hempstead.

The dark-haired father of one, who twice scored 96 points at Post while winning All-America honors, finished the game with a career-high nine goals and three assists. Phil Marino, a 1975 graduate from Hofstra who also won All-America laurels, completed a two-goal and seven assist effort.

"I once scored seven goals in a game but never nine," said Postel, who is co-captain of the Long Island Athletic Club, a team that has won the national club lacrosse championship five of the last eight years.

The performance by Postel was unbelievable by members of the Australian team who had won five of their previous seven games. "We've never played a team as good as this," said Aussie manager Alan Chiron after looking at the 11-0 deficit that became 15-4 at the half. LIAC, now 3-2 overall, outshot the green-jerseyed visitors, 22-11, in the opening period and didn't permit Australia to take a shot on goal until 9:11 had elapsed.

"Whew," said Marino, now an assistant lacrosse coach at Hempstead High School. "I prefer the American rules. You know

Aussie lacrosse team will visit Coyne

By BOB SNYDER

There'll be quite an international flavor in Syracuse this spring . . . A Down Under flavor, to be exact.

Plans have been finalized for two invasions of our town — by the Australian national lacrosse team on April 23 and New Zealand's national crew, starting May 27.

The Aussie stickmen will face NCAA College Division champion Cortland State under the lights at Syracuse's Coyne Stadium (8 p.m. faceoff). According to Jake Curran, Central New York chairman of the USILA's international committee (chaired by Rutgers coach Tom Hayes) the Aussies will provide Chuck Winters' Red Dragons with a solid test. Jake was a whistle-blower during the 1974 World Championships, hosted by the Aussies during their 100th-year of playing the stickgame.

Our country's nationals won it Down Under, beating their hosts in the finals, 20-14.

Cortland, selected because of its national champion status, will be led by NCAA Guide coverboy Jud Smith, a two-time All-American attackman.

The Friday evening clash will be the first international lacrosse contest here since Oxford and Cambridge crossed sticks in 1930 at then not-so-Ancient Archbold. Those two British institutions, better known for their rowing prowess, had also invaded here in '26.

Sponsored by the Orange Pack and Stickmen Club, the Aussies vs. Cortland is part of a 15-game swing across the North American continent. The Australians also have dates set in California, Florida, Virginia, (Baltimore) Maryland, Long Island and here. After the Coyne clash, the Aussies head for Toronto and other Canadian cities, the tour serving as a prep for the 1978 Worlds in Manchester, England.

Curran said present plans are for the Aussies to be here a few days in advance of the Cortland game, to give exhibitions at area high schools and the Onondaga Indian reservation. It's hoped that the Aussies will be billeted with local lacrosse-minded families and that a civic reception and post-game buffet will be included during their trip here.

New Zealand's crew, which fielded the Olympic Gold Medal eight in '72, will be making Syracuse and Onondaga's waters their home away from home.

A party of 24, headed by coach Rusty Robertson, will work and train here from May 27 until they head for the Olympics in Montreal (rowing starts there on July 17).

During their six-week stay here, the New Zealanders will stay in SU dorms and fit in a few tests — perhaps an IRA Regatta exhibition — as well as the Independence Day Regatta in Philadelphia.

'SNYDE' REMARKS — Defending champion Lehigh team to beat, but Ed Carlin's Orange matmen hope to improve on last year's sixth place finish in Eastern wrestling championships, this weekend at Franklin and Marshall . . .

Also on tap this weekend are National Junior College grappling championships at Worthington, Minn., and NJCAA swimming championships at Livonia, Mich. . . Saturday, Cornell's Barton Hall will be site of Indoor Heps, while Colgate entertains New York State swimming championships . . . Orange cagers, who'll visit Niagara on Wednesday in preview of possible ECAC matchup under Manley Dome, end regular season seeking perfect 12-0 home mark against tough Virginia Tech on Saturday.

Aussie '10': Pay as you go

'SNYDE' REMARKS — Australian Nationals, facing Cortland State's defending NCAA College Division lacrosse champs Friday (7:30 p.m.) on SU's Coyne Carpet, are 1-2 vs. collegiate foes. Aussies surprised Rutgers, 18-7, after losing to Washington & Lee, 15-10, and No. 2-ranked Maryland, 22-10. This will be ninth (and last) stop on U.S. tour for stickmen from Down Under. Tickets at Manley are $1.50 in advance, $2 at gate . . .

AUSSIE STICKS HERE TONIGHT

Bill Orange's sports weekend, which will peak tomorrow afternoon in Archbold Stadium when the footballers conduct their annual spring scrimmage game, will get underway this evening on Coyne Stadium's mod sod.

That's where a twi-night lacrosse twin bill will be held. In the 5:30 curtain-raiser, Syracuse's ten will take on the local CNY Club team. Two hours later, the touring Australian lacrossers will face Cortland State, this year's defending NCAA College Division champions.

The unbeaten Orange crew, meanwhile, shoves off for a pair of big tests in Jersey. Tomorrow on the Raritan, Coach Bill Sanford's navy, which swept Cornell in its debut last Saturday, will square off against Rutgers. Then on Sunday, they'll race Princeton over the Albridge (Bud) Smith memorial course. Both tests will be at the Olympic distance of 2,000 meters.

the Australian National Lacrosse Team, in Syracuse for Friday night's 7:30 face-off against defending NCAA College Division king Cortland State under the arcs on SU's Coyne Carpet.

Take for example the Aussie player who was a garbage collector in the morning, a demolition man in the afternoon . . . Or the stickwielder who sold his port wine collection . . . Or the one who stopped smoking.

The latter didn't stop puffing because his doctor advised it. Nor was it a desire to get up and down the field quicker. All the Aussies did what they had to do in order to take part in the team's nine-game United States tour, which ends tomorrow.

"We'd heard we were to receive a 50 per cent subsidy," said 41-year-old coach Joe Forrester, a production manager for a refrigeration company in Adelaide. "But because of the economic situation and change of government, we got bad news 4-5 weeks before leaving for the States. Not a cracker." Not even a crumb.

So the Aussies were staring a financial headache in the face. "Our air fare was $2,100 U.S. money. That, plus personal expenses, is all coming out-of-pocket," said Forrester. "But lacrosse in Australia is one of the most amateur sports we have. It's far down the list in popularity.

"Our best crowds would be 1-2,000, when South Australia plays Victoria . . . Lacrosse in our country is a sport played by club teams. There are three university teams and they play within the club format . . . We have only two college graduates on our team. And it's a young group for an Australian team, averaging 22 years of age."

The youthful Australians, who arrived here yesterday and are being quartered in a number of area homes, are a party of 56 — 23 players, coach Forrester, asst. Frank Poat, manager Al Chiron, tour director Ted Clayfield and his wife Joy (a physical therapist and team trainer), plus 28 fans.

Only six members of the team were on the 1974 host squad which lost to the U.S. (30-14) in the last World Series of Lacrosse. But they have their sights set on upsetting the Americans in the '78 Worlds in Manchester, Eng.

On this two-month tour, the Aussies opened with a pair of wins over all-star teams, then lost to Washington & Lee (15-10), nipped Mt. Washington LC (20-19), bowed to No. 2-ranked Maryland (22-10), beat Chesapeake LC (13-10), whipped Rutgers (18-7) and lost Tuesday night to the Long Island AC (22-16).

That last one was under the lights and the first artificial surface outing for the boys from Down Under. "We were down, 11-0. That first period was a disaster," said Forrester. "We couldn't read the ball, couldn't pick up ground balls. We got things worked out and at the end, would have loved an extra period.

"Maryland. That was a beautifully balanced team . . . We've had trouble with the flu on this trip. But that's no excuse. We'd love to play 'em again," added Forrester, who'll be taking his team to Canada from here. The Aussies play the Canadian Nationals, then take part in a four-team tourney with Canada, L.I. and Mt. Washington, before flying to England for two games and heading for various points prior to a May 18 return home.

If the money holds out.

'SNYDE' REMARKS — SU vs. Syracuse LC in 5:30 face-off, prior to Cortland-Aussies . . . Australians working out tonight at Coyne . . . Forrester not about to gripe publicly, but he'd have preferred international rules. "That means no stick touching an opponent's body, substitutions on the fly, two timeouts per half, no stoppage in time except timeouts or injuries, 25-minute quarters," said the Aussie coach. "It's a much faster game, higher scoring and, I feel, more interesting for the fans."

Forrester, whose wife was basketball star Down Under and managed women's stick team which toured U.S. in '72, recalled trying to expand popularity of sport. "We made a trip to Hobart, Tasmania, last July," he said. "Winds were more than 100 mph. Television stands were knocked over. It was awful . . . Only good thing about it was we got two more teams playing there as result of the game."

Australian Invasion

The touring Australian National lacrosse team makes its final U.S. stop tonite at Syracuse University's Coyne Field when they meet NCAA College Division champion Cortland State in a 7:30 p.m. exhibition contest. SU tangles with the Central New York Lacrosse Club in the pre-

Aussies Prefer Quicker Pace

By KURT DOSSIN

Lacrosse — it's the fastest game on two feet. Ask any Australian.

If you took an Indian box lacrosse game out of the box and put it on the field you probably wouldn't know what to call it, but chances are the amount of action you'd observe would be very pleasing to the eye.

The Australian Nationals, a touring lacrosse club which plays under international rules, come to town tonight to take on the Cortland State Red Dragons, last year's NCAA College Division champions.

Aussie coach John Forrester promises Central New York lacrosse fans one of the most action-packed stick games they've ever witnessed. SU's Coyne Field will be the site of the spectacle with the face-off set for 7:30 p.m. In the first game of the exhibition doubleheader, Syracuse University takes on the Central New York Lacrosse Club at 5:30 p.m. Admission is $2 at the gate.

"One of our main reasons for touring the United States is to try and promote our form of the game," said Forrester yesterday afternoon on the Coyne Field rug. "The international rule interpretations call for very little stoppage in play during penalties and goals. Substitutions are made on the fly and we use 25-minute quarters of continuous running time, instead of the 15-minute periods used by the colleges and clubs here in the states."

During their tour of the U.S., which has taken the Aussies from Southern California to Florida and on up the East Coast, the team has produced an impressive 5-3 record.

Victories have come at the expense of the Southern California All-Stars, 18-6; the South Florida All-Stars, 31-5; Mt. Washington Lacrosse Club, 20-19; Chesapeake Lacrosse Club, 13-11; and Rutgers, 18-7.

Losses on the trip were at the hands of Washington and Lee, 15-10; the University of Maryland, 22-10; and the Long Island Lacrosse Club, 22-16.

"Maryland's the best we've played against," said midfielder Ron Twomey, a 26-year-old fireman who along with defenseman Jeff Kelly are the only two Aussie players to have toured the states previously.

"The synthetic turf gave us a lot of trouble against Long Island," added Twomey, who shares the co-captain spot with attackman Ray Duthy. "But, if everyone played on it (the turf), the game would be better all-around. The same is true with the plastic stick. It's the greatest thing that ever happened to the game."

Only two of the Australian players use the wooden stick, which must be imported from the United States.

"Some guy back home (in Australia) tried to make them once out of hickory wood, but the idea never got off the ground," said Forrester, who doubles as a production manager for a refrigeration company when he's not coaching lacrosse.

Cortland, which enters the contest with a 2-2 mark and the No. 5 ranking in the current U.S.I.L.A. Coaches' poll, is looking at the game from a confidence building standpoint.

"They (Australia) lost to W and L and we've still got to play them later in the season, so it will be a good test for us," said Cortland coach Chuck Winters. "But, it's a different type of game and we anticipate a lot of confusion during man-up and man-down situations."

"We'll try and get our kids intent on listening more closely to us on the sidelines because we'll have to change midfield units on the fly much more quickly," concluded Winters.

If lacrosse is indeed the fastest game on two feet, tonight's game shouldn't hurt that image in the slightest.

Aussies stick Cortland, 15 to 11

By CHUCK HARTY

The Australian National Lacrosse Team, exhibiting extraordinary quickness and precision, closed its American tour by defeating Cortland State, 15-11, in teeth chattering cold last night at Coyne Stadium.

The Aussies finished with a highly respectable 6-3 record on the American portion of their world junket which heads to Canada and Europe prior to a May 18 return home.

Central New York lacrosse fans (about 500) who braved the more typical April weather to witness the doubleheader (CNY Lacrosse Club nipped Syracuse University, 9-7 in the prelim) came away impressed with the quicker tempo of the feature played under international rules.

"My, they play a speedy game," stated SU coach Roy

Simmons, Jr. of the Aussies as he took shelter from the wind chill to view the second period in the press box. "They must be in tremendous physical condition. That plus the fact that they don't body check which helps keep them fresh."

The Aussies took quite a few body checks last night from a Red Dragon club who must be given credit for an outstanding effort in defeat. Adapting to the international method of making substitutions on the fly wasn't easy but coach Chuck Winters' squad reacted admirably and held a halftime lead, 7-5.

In the end, a tremendous faceoff advantage (22-7) and an always active attackman Jeff Kennedy (4 goals and four assists) meant the difference in the come-from-behind win for the green and gold clad nationals.

Ernie Olsen's seven goal outburst (he scored five vs Brockport Wednesday) powered the Dragons.

"Cortland has a good ball club," stated winning coach Joe Forrester at a reception under the Manley Dome following the contest. "They're sincere, they've got quickness, but Maryland and Washington and Lee had stronger overall clubs."

"It was cold tonight but not as cold as it was when we lost to Washington and Lee (15-10). Many members of the team caught colds at that one which detracted from our performance against Maryland (a 22-10 loss). This was only our second game ever on an artificial surface but this one reacted much truer than the surface in Long Island where we lost. It's an excellent surface on which to play."

The Aussies next meet the Canadian Nationals and then enter a four-team tourney with Canada, L.I. and Mt. Washington.

Cortland returns to Coyne Stadium Monday at 3:30 p.m. to take on SU, NCAA style.

But the international style that the Australians toured the country to promote provided some rapid, up tempo action at first look and should merit some consideration by NCAA officials in the future.

Aussies Tip Cortland St.

By KURT DOSSIN

Complete with a stuffed koala bear mascot named Ben which found a comfortable seat on the scorer's table, the Australian National lacrosse team took the field at Coyne Stadium last night and gave Central New York stick fans their first look at a slightly speeded-up version of the game.

Cortland State, the defending NCAA College Division champs, provided the opposition and for a half it appeared the Red Dragons might turn the tables on the Aussies and their international game.

But rocket shots that were finding nothing but pipes in the first half, starting making contact with the netting later on and the Australians went on to post a 15-11 victory over the Red Dragons.

For the Aussies, it was their final appearance in their nine-game tour of the United States which found them sticking it to the Americans on six different occasions while absorbing only three defeats. From here, it's on to Toronto where they'll compete in a round-robin tournament with Lacrosse Canada, Long Island Lacrosse Club and Mt. Washington Lacrosse Club.

In the first game of the exhibition twinbill at Coyne last night, which drew close to 1,000 fans, the Central New York Lacrosse Club edged Syracuse University, 9-7, as former Cortland State grad Mike Waldvogel paved the way with four goals.

The Club never trailed as Hobart's B.J. O'Hara and John Topichak added two goals apiece for the winners. Larry Storrier and John Sweitzer paced the Orange with a pair of goals each.

Australia took a narrow, 4-3, lead after the opening period, as John Butkiewicz fired in an unorthodox backhanded wrist shot from 20 feet out, beating Cortland goalie Wayne Werner easily.

Cortland, which was finding the rules interpretations of international play somewhat confusing at the outset, settled down and took the play away from the Aussies in the second period to take a 7-5 halftime advantage.

Red Dragon attackman Ernie Olson, who led all scorers with seven goals, paced the Cortland second period uprising with three consecutive tallies, the last one coming on a breakaway as he went in all alone.

The Aussies controlled the play in the second half with the help of an overwhelming edge in faceoffs. Cortland was able to come up with only seven of 29 faceoff attempts on the evening and the Red Dragons paid the price for it. Jeff Kennedy paced Australia with four goals and four assists, as the Aussies outshot Cortland, 59-46.

"It (the game played under international rules) might be more exciting, but it definitely takes away much of the strategy of the game," said Cortland coach Chuck Winters following the loss. "The quickness of the game (substitutions on the fly and continuous running time of 25-minute quarters) doesn't enable you to feel out the opposition's weak spots. Therefore, you can't make adjustments and take advantage of those weak spots."

"I prefer the American game myself," said Cortland attackman Jud Smith, who had two goals and an assist on the night. "They play a zone defense, for one thing, so it's more difficult on the attackmen, but I like the settled game we play."

Aside from the difference in rules, the astroturf seemed to play a role in the outcome. Cortland appeared to have more trouble with it than the Aussies, who were playing only their second game ever on the artificial surface. The Aussies played the bounce as well as it could be played. A fine tribute to a team that hadn't been able to pick up a ground ball during the first 22 minutes of its game with the Long Island Lacrosse Club on a synthetic carpet.

Even Ben seemed to be pleased.

OLD HOME DAY — Josephine Brown, left, Homer correspondent for the Cortland Standard, felt right at home yesterday when she talked to Agnes and Frank Hogarth of Melbourne, Victoria, Australia, who are in the United States with the Australian lacrosse team. Mrs. Brown came to Homer from Australia several years ago as a war bride. The Hogarths are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thames in Homer.

Visitors from Australia, Homer Correspondent Have Old Home Day

By JOSEPHINE BROWN

HOMER—It is not often that the opportunity to interview visitors to the community becomes old home day for the reporter but this happened yesterday when I went to see Mr. and Mrs. Hogarth, visitors from Australia who are travelling with the Australian lacrosse team and staying for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thames and family.

Although Agnes and Frank Hogarth's home is in Melbourne, Victoria, and mine was in Sydney, New South Wales, a distance of about 700 miles, that is a hop, skip, and jump in the vast miles that are the continent of Australia. A friendly rivalry exists between the two cities — Sydney has "our bridge" and Melbourne has "the upside down river."

Mr. and Mrs. Hogarth are part of a group of 58 players, coaches and supporters of the Australian lacrosse team that is touring the world on an eight week trip. The visitors flew from Australia to Los Angeles and then to Miami and have travelled by bus the rest of the way, arriving Wednesday evening in Syracuse. They will leave for Toronto, Canada tomorrow.

Tonight the team will play the Cortland State lacrosse team at Manley Field House, Syracuse University.

Mr. Hogarth is the vice-president of the Australian Lacrosse Council and has been active in the support of lacrosse for 46 years as a player, coach and administrator. He was chairman of the 1974 World Series of lacrosse when teams from England and Canada played in Australia. One hundred-sixty supporters travelled with the visiting teams at that time.

Lacrosse has been played in Australia since 1887 in the three southern states, Victoria, South Australia and Western Australia. There are about 4,000 playing members and interstate games as well as local leagues are played. This sport is not government subsidized — each player and supporter pays his own way.

The Hogarths have been to this country twice before. Mr. Hogarth is a glass blower and a lecturer at the Institute of Technology in Melbourne. He visited Corning Glass Works the last time he was here, which was just a few months before the flood damage in 1972, and was shocked to hear of the devastation caused by that storm.

As we sat drinking tea (we tried to instruct Mrs. Thames on how to make "a good cuppa") Mr. and Mrs. Hogarth spoke of the outstanding hospitality offered to them by all the people they had met on the tour. In most places on the agenda this trip the visitors have been entertained in private homes and in all cases have been made most welcome. As Mrs. Hogarth noted, "When you arrive you feel like a piece of unclaimed luggage until someone steps from the welcoming crowd and makes you part of a family."

The Thames family has learned that Australia isn't an unlimited expanse of flat desert land with farms communicating by "wireless and flying doctor." There are many miles of undeveloped land but there are also many lovely cities and towns along the Eastern and Southern coasts and vast possibilities of natural products to be developed.

We never did resolve who had the accent — the Hogarths claimed the Thames family did and the Thames family was sure the visitors didn't sound exactly American and I was in the middle of the argument someplace.

The schedule for the visitors is an energetic one. Yesterday they visited the college and were taken on a tour of the campus. Last night they went to a lacrosse game on the Onondaga Indian Reservation.

BRIEF MENTION

HOMER — Marine Pvt. Dwight D. Edwards, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Edwards of Homer, has reported for duty with the 8th Communication Battalion Force Troops, at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C. A former student of Homer High School, he joined the Marine Corps in September 1975.

Today Mrs. Hogarth is meeting a cousin in Syracuse whom she has never seen and they also have relatives in the Baltimore, Md. area.

Talk of the harbor, the bridge, the opera house and other familiar places made it difficult to concentrate on a formal interview, but it was a pleasure to meet and talk to such delightful people from "down under."

Field lacrosse tournament on weekend

Quickly now, what sport is played almost exclusively in Canada and nowhere else? Box lacrosse, of course.

Still curious? What sport is an almost forgotten item in Canada, but played in many other parts of the world? Answer: field lacrosse.

Despite the semi-popularity of the box game here and the all but unheard of field sport, the Canadian Lacrosse Association (CLA) is staging a three-day field tournament at Etobicoke's Centennial Park, beginning Saturday. The participants will include Long Island and Mount Washington from the U.S. colleges, the Canadian National squad and the Australian national team. Long Island was the 1975 field lacrosse champion and Mount Washington the runner-up.

So why is Canada getting into the field game again? According to CLA president Doug Budden, field lacrosse will be one of the sports at the Commonwealth games in Edmonton in 1978. "Naturally, as host country, we want to field a competitive team," Budden says.

With this in mind, the CLA sent out invitations to many junior and a few senior stars, asking if they wanted to play field lacrosse for the next three years. The incentive being offered were trips throughout the U.S. and Canada plus possible tours overseas.

For instance, the Canadian field team had a week in Florida last month and have played exhibition games in New York state, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Delaware.

As a prelude to the Centennial Park tournament, the Canadians play the Australians in an exhibition tilt tomorrow night at Oshawa.

LARGE RESPONSE

Many other side benefits are possible as members of the field lacrosse club, such as athletic scholarships at U.S. colleges including Yale, Harvard, Rutgers and others.

"If a player wants to complete his education and also play lacrosse, we can assist him," Budden says. "But the only stipulation would be that he play for Canada in any tournaments."

Close to 100 athletes expressed formal interest in becoming a part of the national team and by the March 1 cut-off date, about 39 remained. Included from the local area are Dave Huntley, Jerry Sobie, Randy Novacks, Al Rimmer, Ted Triopkins and Gary Frolick, all of whom have played junior in the Etobicoke area.

MIXED EMOTIONS

Plenty of controversy is evident even between dedicated lacrosse men about which game is better. At a recent banquet, Ken Kingdon, who played field lacrosse and then switched to box in 1932, claims box is by far the better game. His team-mate of the Miramichi 1932 Canadian champions, Norm Gair, favors the field game.

Budden had trouble defending his association's formation of a field game. One banquet attendee roared, "This is a backward step." To which Budden replied, "Not necessarily. We are expanding."

Another diner asked, "Why cannot the outsiders play our box game when they come to Canada?" Budden had an answer for that also as he replied, "The Australians want to learn our box game. They like it, but, unfortunately, there has not been the funds available to send expert coaches down under to teach them."

Budden also revealed that the People's Republic of China has asked for a series of games and coaches to teach them both field and box lacrosse. Things look bright for a series of exhibition games in Red China within a couple of years.

Budden also had to try to sidestep a question from a member of the audience who asked why those players who were in the National Lacrosse League (NLL) ranks were not invited to try out.

Budden explained that at the time the national team was formed, these players were still under contract to their pro clubs. By the time the NLL folded, the field team had been picked and players were practising as a unit.

First major test for lacrosse team

By GARRY McKAY

TORONTO — Ron Pither has nothing against using the back door.

In fact that's the route Pither expects to take if his Canadian National Field Lacrosse team is to win this coming weekend's Canadian International Field Lacrosse championships.

There are three teams in the tournament besides ourselves, two from the United States — Mt. Washington and Long Island — and the Australian national team.

All three teams have played each other and are watching each other very closely. None of them is paying any attention to us, and I think that could help us sneak through and surprise a few people. We could do quite well," said coach Pither yesterday.

However Pither said that the fledgling Canadian team should undoubtedly be seeded fourth of the four teams and added he would be happy if the team put up a respectable showing.

Not easy

The tournament, which goes Saturday and Sunday at Etobicoke Centennial Park, will be for the Centennial Cup, the first time the cup has been contested since 1957. Washington won it in Peterborough in 1957.

The Canadian team, formed mainly of junior A and ex-junior players, has been together only since last fall.

Adapting from box lacrosse to field lacrosse has not been easy for the Canadians and they have practiced every weekend, hopscoching around the province wherever facilities were available.

The Canadian team has played nine exhibition games in the United States including five in the Suncoast Lacrosse Tournament in Tampa, Florida. Lacrosse Canada won four and lost five.

The accent has been on youth with the Canadian team and 26 of the 37 players still listed on the squad are eligible for Junior A this year. Former pro players were eligible for the team but Pither elected not to use them planning instead to build his team for the future with players who would return next year.

Pleased

Five Hamilton area players, John Harrison, Brian Jones, Tom Hyslop, Wayne Stringer and Garry Morrison, are members of the national team.

Three of them, Harrison, Jones and Hyslop, have been named to the trimmed roster of 23 for this weekend's tournament.

"I've been very pleased with the Hamilton kids on the team," Pither said. "They've picked up the game very well. In fact, I'd have to say that Harrison is the best overall defenceman we have."

The tournament starts Saturday at 12:15 p.m. with Mt. Washington taking on Long Island at 3 p.m. Canada meets Australia.

Canada underdog in field lacrosse

TORONTO (CP) — While lacrosse is supposedly Canada's national pastime, Ron Pither, coach of the Canadian team in a weekend international field lacrosse tournament in the borough of Etobicoke feels his squad is low man on the totem pole in the seedings.

"We don't know what to expect," Pither said Wednesday as his club awaited the outcome of a draw for the opening game. "All I know is that if they seeded the teams, we probably would be fourth."

The tournament marks the end of the initial phase of a three-year program to improve the over-all play of Canada's field lacrosse team by the Lacrosse Canada division of the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

Tournament organizers have brought in three of the top lacrosse side to play against the fledgling Canadian club Saturday's opening game as the 1975 United States champions from Mount Washington in a title revival with the 1975 runners-up, Long Island, N.Y. Long Island won six straight U.S. titles before last year's defeat.

On the two American clubs will be eight players who marked the U.S. to the last world championship in 1974. Canada goes against Australia, runners-up to the U.S. in 1974, in Saturday's second game.

The championship and consolation finals will be played Sunday.

Lacrosse coach feels chances aren't bright

While lacrosse is supposedly Canada's national sport, Ron Pither, coach of the Canadian team in a weekend international field-lacrosse tournament, is not optimistic on his team's chances.

"We don't know what to expect," Pither said yesterday as his team awaited the outcome of a draw for the opening game. "All I know is that if they seeded the teams, we probably would be fourth."

The tournament in Etobicoke marks the end of the initial phase of a three-year program to improve the over-all play of Canada's field-lacrosse team by the Lacrosse Canada division of the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

Tournament organizers have brought in three of the top lacrosse sides to play against the fledgling Canadian team.

The opening game Saturday has the 1975 U.S. champion from Mount Washington in a title revival with the 1975 runners-up, Long Island, N.Y. Long Island won six U.S. titles in a row before last year's defeat.

Canada will go against Australia, runner-up to the United States in 1974, in the second game Saturday.

The Canadian team comprised of players 16 to 21, started preparing for the tournament in January and recently finished a series of exhibition games.

This weekend, however, will be their first test against world-class opposition. The championship and consolation finals will be played Sunday.

Cheap penalties hurt national field lacrosse team

Considered the underdogs in international tourney

By JIM MEYERS

Canada's national field lacrosse team hasn't endeared itself to American fans over the past four months.

They take a lot of penalties, senseless penalties that have tagged them the Philadelphia Flyers of the lacrosse field.

They don't try to intimidate the opposition. It's just that it's hard to change old box lacrosse habits. In the box version of the game hitting is part of the game. In the field variety it's running and passing. Most players play junior box lacrosse as well.

Canadian fans can decide for themselves this weekend at the Canadian International Field Lacrosse championships at Centennial Stadium.

Plans for the championship were announced earlier this week at a downtown press conference, the second since the team was announced to the world in mid-winter.

The top two American club teams and the Australian national team will complete the field in the two-day championships.

United States won the world championship two years ago while Australia was third. The two American teams will be Mount Washington and Long Island. Mount Washington defeated Long Island last year for the club championship.

Lacrosse Canada has won four of its last nine games. The most recent game was a 22-7 loss to Hobart College of New York. In that game Canada took more than 20 penalties, Hobart took four.

"It's hard to win games when you play a man short all the time," one of the players offered as an explanation.

The two American teams clash Saturday at noon with the Australian team meeting Lacrosse Canada at 3 p.m.

The two winners play in the championship game Sunday. Whether or not Lacrosse Canada is one of the championship teams their game will be televised at 2 p.m. on the CBC network.

Randy Novak (15), Al Rimmer (16) and Ted Hopkins (44) will be familiar faces to Etobicoke lacrosse fans. Novak and Hopkins play in the Ontario Lacrosse Association Junior A while Rimmer, a Long Branch native, played in the American college circuit.

The team is building for the next world championships in two years. Players will return to the box game for the summer and then regroup in the fall for a tour of England, another world field lacrosse power.

Ron Pither probably would be more successful devising a scheme to get into Fort Knox than he would coaching Lacrosse Canada to the Canadian International Field Lacrosse Championship this weekend. But he honestly believes his team has a chance.

Four teams will compete in the two-day event at Etobicoke Centennial Park Saturday and Sunday and here's what Pither's boys are facing:

Mount Washington — The U. S. Lacrosse Club champions last year with several former All-America players on the team. In 1975 they placed five players on the first All-America team.

Long Island—A team which features seven players who played on the U.S. national team in 1974 and the team that lost to Mount Washington in last year's U.S. finals.

Australia—A vastly improved team than the one that won the bronze medal in the 1974 world championships.

In exhibition games earlier this month, the Aussies edged Mount Washington 20-19 and Long Island beat the Aussies 22-16.

Now for Lacrosse Canada.

The team is basically an all-star box lacrosse team selected three months ago with only two players with previous field lacrosse experience. Twenty-six of the final 37 players are still eligible for junior lacrosse this season. Twenty-three players will be selected to participate.

"I think we can sneak in the back door," claims Pither, coach of the Oshawa Green Gaels the past four years.

"We lost because we were having trouble adapting to the field game. There are so many differences in field and box lacrosse.

"But perhaps the most difficult adjustment is for the goaltenders. The net in box lacrosse is four feet by four feet. It's six feet by six feet in field lacrosse and that requires different techniques in goaltending.

"It's been coming along great though, so much so that Bob Flintoff (who played with the Gaels) has been offered a lacrosse scholarship at North Carolina State. And our other goaltender, Dave Moran of Ottawa, is showing improvement every time out."

BACK-THUMPING CHECK . . . Lacrosse Canada's Stan Cockerton (40) stick checked Australia's Nigel Hudson during yesterday's Canadian International field lacrosse championships at Etobicoke's Centennial Park. The more

Young Canadian team no match for Aussies

By BOB MITCHELL
Staff Writer

Lacrosse Canada, still in its infancy, was no match yesterday for the talented and more experienced national side from Australia at the Canadian International field lacrosse championship at Etobicoke's Centennial Park.

The Aussies crushed Ron Pither's four-month old national team 27-12, using a combination of fast breaks, precise passing, accurate shooting and excellent team work. Australia now meets Long Island Athletic Club, 21-17 upset winners earlier in the day over defending U.S. champions Mount Washington Wolfpack in today's championship game at 11 a.m.

"I'm not trying to make any excuses, but you must remember this was only the 10th field lacrosse game we've ever played," Pither said. "We've got a lot to learn and Australia was a much more experienced team. It was the best team we've ever played."

"I really didn't think we'd lose by that much though. We got wiped and at times we played terribly. When we got off of our pattern, we stunk. We're a young team and we're easily rattled and easily upset. We'll be better with more experience."

Lacrosse Canada trailed 5-3 after one quarter and was down 12-6 at the half, before falling completely apart in the third quarter. Australia scored 11 unanswered goals in that quarter, taking a 23-6 lead into the fourth period. Canada regained some of its composure in the final quarter, however, and actually outscored the Aussies 6-4.

Much of the match was spent inside Canada's zone as Australia fired 71 shots at goalies Bob Flintoff and Dave Moran. Canada aimed 38 shots at Australia's netminding duo of Allan Bower and Geoffrey Kennedy.

Al Rimmer, Ted Greves and Bob Burke each scored three goals for Lacrosse Canada with Mike Donovan, Stan Cockerton and Art Webster scoring one each. Peter Cann led Australia with nine goals, Ray Duthy, Peter Lynch and Gregor Spicar each fired three goals, Lee Vandepser, Jeffrey Kennedy and Warren Stahmer each notched two and Ron Twomey, Jeff Butkiewicz and Doug Carter scored one each.

Long Island's win over Mount Washington of Baltimore, Maryland, avenged last year's 18-9 championship loss. Prior to that game, the New York club had won six consecutive U.S. club championships. Australia, playing on the last leg of its U.S. tour, was beaten 22-16 by Long Island two weeks ago.

Phil Marino led Long Island with five goals while Dick Bond and Richie Werner each scored three goals. Fran McAleavey, Stan Kowalski and Tom Postel each scored two goals with singles coming from Beaver Draffen, Tom Malone, Kirk Jurgelevich and Ron Fraser.

All-America Don Krohn scored five goals in a losing cause for Mount Washington while Chip Tokins scored three times. Butch Fisher, Bob DeSimone, and Tom Beck each scored two goals with singles coming from Jim Ulman, Scott Bougher and Skip Lichtfuss.

Long Island defeats Australian Nats, wins Canadian national-game tourney

The Long Island Athletic Club won the Canadian International field lacrosse tournament yesterday in Etobicoke, hanging on to beat the Australian national team 26-23.

Co-captain Tom Postel turned in a 13-point performance, including five goals. A pair of goals by Postel with seven minutes left gave Long Island a 25-17 lead, but the determined Aussies came back to close the margin to three.

Two weeks earlier at Long Island, the result was 22-16 in favor of the same team.

Jim Tranz notched six goals and Dick Bond and Phil Marino scored four goals for the winners.

Leigh Vandepser, Gary Kennedy and Ron Twomey each scored four goals for the Australians. Peter Cann scored three times in the first half.

In the consolation game, the Mount Washington Wolf Pack defeated Lacrosse Canada 21-16. The Canadian team includes 18 high school students.

Former All-Americans Ted Grades and Al Rimmer are the only Canadians with field lacrosse experience. They each scored two goals and added three assists and paced the Canadians to an early lead. The Wolf Pack, however, scored twice in the last minute of the first half to take a 9-8 lead. For the Canadians, Ron Martinello scored four goals, Bob Burke got three, Stan Cockerton had two and Tim Briscoe, Brian Jones and Mike Donovan got one each.

A BIG SCRAMBLE: Canadian players (in white sweaters) and rivals from Mount Washington tussle for ball during consolation final of international field lacrosse tourney at Centennial Park yesterday. Long Island won the title.

Long Island is lacrosse's class

By PETER KRIVEL
Star sports writer

If anything, Long Island Athletic Club left the past weekend's Canadian International field lacrosse tournament at Etobicoke Centennial Park as the top field lacrosse club in the world.

Saturday, Long Island took a 21-17 win from Mount Washington, the team that beat them last season for the United States club championship. Yesterday, Long Island added another trophy to its collection by edging the Australian national team, runner-up at the 1974 world championships, 26-24, in the tournament's final.

In the consolation game, Lacrosse Canada lost, 21-16, to Mount Washington after dropping a 27-12 game to Australia Saturday.

"I guess you could say we're No. 1," said Long Island coach Tom Flatley. "But I'm not claiming it. After all, we were beaten pretty good by a couple of Baltimore clubs this season."

GOOD MIXTURE

Even so, it's a combination of youth and experience — average age on the team is 25, highest of all the sides in the tourney — that has Long Island leading its league division and which gave it yesterday's title.

Included on the team are six players from the U.S. world champion squad from 1974 plus eight All-Americans. And it was this mixture that took the win from the Australians.

Long Island had a 15-11 lead at the half and, extended it to 20-15 at three-quarter time. After building up an eight-point margin early in the fourth period, Long Island let Australia control the face-offs while hanging on for the victory.

"Actually, if we won the ball as many times during the game as the Australians, it wouldn't have been as close," said Flatley. "But they're a good team. Give them a couple of months in our league and they'd be one of the top two or three teams."

SIX-GOAL SPLURGE

Jim Trenz led Long Island with six goals followed by five by Tom Postel and four each by Phil Marino, Beaver Droffen and Dick Bond.

Gary Kennedy, Leigh Vandesper and Ron Twomey each had four goals for Australia.

Despite losing both games on the weekend, coach Ron Pither is pleased with his accomplishments in teaching the game to a young and inexperienced Canadian team.

"I think we accomplished what we wanted to," he said. "We learned about the game from three of the best teams in the world."

The Canadians jumped into a 5-2 first-quarter lead yesterday but then let Mount Washington take the tempo of the game away by setting up pick plays.

"I'm very pleased with the way we played against much more experienced teams," Pither said. "After all, these were only the 10th and 11th field lacrosse games we've played."

Don Krohn, with five goals, spearheaded Mount Washington's attack while Bob DeSimone and Dough Radebough each added three.

Wayne Martinello led the Canadians with four goals, with Bob Burke getting three and Ted Greves, Stan Cockerton and Al Rimmer each scoring twice.

It just wasn't to be for Canada

By RICK FRASER
Staff Writer

Coach Ron Pither prodded, praised and and needled Lacrosse Canada throughout the entire game but it failed to produce the upset he wanted as Mount Washington Lacrosse Club scored a 21-16 victory in the consolation event of the Canadian International field lacrosse championship yesterday at Etobicoke Centennial Park.

The Long Island Lacrosse Club, which defeated Mount Washington 21-17 on Saturday, took the championship with a 26-23 win over the Australian national team. The Aussies whipped Lacrosse Canada 27-12 on Saturday.

Canada fell behind 2-0 early in the game and Pither started his psyche job.

"Let's get hungry ... Make those cuts hard ... you gotta be decisive."

The team responded and scored five consecutive goals for a 5-2 lead. During a time out, Pither told his young troops, together for only four months: "You're doing a beautiful job. Keep it up."

But Mount Washington, experienced and winners of last year's U.S. club championship, started putting it together after falling behind 8-4. They struck for two quick goals and Pither called a time out.

"You gotta give it that little bit extra," he told his players.

Just before the first half ended, Mount Washington pulled ahead 9-8 and at the intermission, Pither ordered his players to one end of the field.

"You had them cold and let them get away," he growled. "Five or six guys are just coasting out there. If you want to win you know damn well what you have to do. Don't use tiredness as an excuse."

When Mount Washington increased its margin to 14-9 in the third quarter, Pither called another time out. This time he was angrier than ever.

"We are not beaten but we are quitting. Now let's get out there and put some effort into this game. We can still win."

It wasn't to be. They rallied a couple of times in the final quarter to pull to within three goals of Mount Washington but their inexperience, together with the fact they were against a fine, well-prepared team, took its toll.

When it was over, Pither revealed it was an expected outcome.

"I'm very proud of the way we handled ourselves today. We were up against one of the finest teams in the United States and we accomplished what we set out to do — learn the game of field hockey.

"I thought an upset was in the making early but we let the tempo get away. This is only our 11th game of field lacrosse and making the transition from box lacrosse isn't easy.

"Our players will return to the box game now but we'll be getting together throughout the summer for practices and if we can stick together and get some experience, we'll be able to hold our own in international competition."

Don Krohn scored five goals to lead Mount Washington's offence. Doug Radebough and Bob DeSimone each had three, Jim Ulman, Butch Fisher and Gary Handleman each checked in with a pair while Tom Beck, Bill McCutcheon and Scott Baugher had singles.

Ron Martinello and Bob Burke led Lacrosse Canada with four and three goals respectfully. Stan Cockerton, Al Rimmer and Ted Greves each contributed two and Tim Briscoe, Mike Donovan and Brian Jones had the others.

Long Island had to shore up its defence late in the game to hold back the Aussies.

They led 25-17 with seven minutes remaining but the Australians struck back and closed the gap to three goals.

"We let up in the last quarter after building up that big lead," said assistant coach John Phillips. "But we got it going again before it was too late."

Jim Trenz and Tom Postel caused the Australians the most trouble. Trenz scored six goals and assisted on two others while Postel scored five goals and drew assists on eight others. Beaver Draffen, Phil Marino and Dick Bond each had four goals. Bert Fett scored twice and Richie Werner collected the other.

Gary Kennedy, Gary Tillotson and Leigh Vandepser were four-goal men for Australia. John Butkiewicz, Peter Cann and Bill Stahmer each had three and Ray Duthy and Paul Lynch each scored once.

CANADIANS FALL TWICE

Long Island Wins Lacrosse Tourney

TORONTO (CP-Staff)—Mount Washington Wolf Pack staged a second period rally to defeat the Canadian national field lacrosse team 21-16 Sunday in the consolation final of the Canadian International Field Lacrosse Championship.

Long Island, N.Y., defeated Australia 26-23 in the tourney final.

Yesterday's loss was the second absorbed by Lacrosse Canada in the four-team tournament. On Saturday the Australians whipped their hosts 27-12.

In the consolation game, Canada took an 8-4 lead in the first half before the Wolf Pack stormed back to take a 9-8 lead in the last minute of the first half. The Canadians were out of the game after that.

WORTH IT

Nevertheless, team manager Dean McLeod felt Canada had played much better than they did in Saturday's game, and felt despite the two losses the experiment of converting Box lacrosse players into field lacrosse players was worth it.

"They learned an awful lot," McLeod said, "and they hustled all the way through the game. It showed our guys if they hustled they can play with the best of them. There's no way Australia is 15 goals better than us.

"I think since we've started there's been a lot of improvement," McLeod continued. "And they've improved their box lacrosse skills. Now they've learned to pass and shoot with both hands. It's not going to take them too long to refine their field lacrosse skills."

Ron Marinello scored four of the Canadians' goals, while Brampton's Bob Burke notched three and Stan Cockerton had two. Tim Briscoe, Brian Jones and Mike Donovan of Brampton scored one apiece.

BUILT UP LEAD

In the championship final Long Island built up a 25-17 lead late in the game but the Australians refused to play dead.

They managed to close the gap within three, but Long Island held them off until time ran out. Long Island co-captain Tom Postel notched five goals and added eight assists to pace his team to the title.

Brampton players accounted for five goals when Lacrosse Canada dropped a 27-12 decision Saturday to Australia.

Attackman Bob Burke from the Junior A Bramalea Excelsiors scored three goals, tying Al Rimmer and Ted Greves for top scoring honors among the Canadians.

Mike Donovan opened the scoring for Canada, giving them a short-lived 1-1 tie. Art Webster added a goal and an assist and played an aggressive game, while Gord Lyons picked up an assist on Burke's first goal.

SUPERB PERFORMANCE

The fifth Brampton player, Greg Walmsley, was kept off the scoresheet, but played a strong checking game.

The fans were treated to a superb performance by Australian attackman Peter Cann, who scored nine goals. Phil Lynch also shone for Australia, scoring three goals and setting up another six.

The Australians led 5-3 after the first quarter and 12-6 at the half, as the Canadians seemed to be holding their own.

In the third quarter, however, the roof fell in on Canada as Australia clicked for 11 unanswered goals.

The Canadians managed to salvage something from the fourth quarter, as they controlled the tempo and outscored Australia 6-4.

Their inability to control the game and work the ball around proved costly to Canada, in the opinion of coach Ron Pither.

TRAP

"We fell into the trap of trying to freewheel it with them," Pither said. "And they just have too much experience. This game was only our tenth game of field lacrosse ever."

Lack of experience hurt the Canadians, particularly when it came to moving the ball out of their own end. Australia, on the other hand, had little trouble evading the Canadian pressure, with goaltender Evin Jones playing a big part in moving the ball out of his team's end.

The major factor in the outcome of the game was Australia's dominance of the faceoffs. The Australians were able to maintain possession of the ball after a goal by winning the faceoff, and this kept the Canadians at a disadvantage. Scott MacLean was the only Canadian who had any success at all in the faceoff department, and then only late in the game, after the issue had been decided.

McLeod said Lacrosse Canada will play one more game this year, an exhibition match in July against an unnamed team. The club will then regather in August to practice for their trip to England in September.

McLeod also said the play of the Canadians impressed some senior lacrosse players who were spectators at the tourney. That might persuade them to join the team, he said, which would help Canada's chances at the world field lacrosse championships in Manchester, England in 1978.

SPORT IN BRIEF

England's chance to catch up

LACROSSE.—John Blake of Urmston has withdrawn from the England team to play Australia in a lacrosse match on the Cheadle Hulme Cricket Club ground at Grove Park, Manchester, this evening after being injured in training. He is replaced by Frank Bedford (Stockport). Of the previous five games between the two countries Australia have won three but England have a great chance to draw level in the series tonight.

The home squad is the more experienced of the two as Australia's side includes a number of young players in preparation for the world series in 1978. Australia are on their way home after a United States tour during which they won eight of their 12 matches.

England's exciting triumph

England defeated Australia by 15-11 at Grove Park, Cheadle Hulme, after one of the best exhibitions of lacrosse ever seen in this country. Play was fast and of a high standard at all times. England lasted the pace better and in the closing stages were unquestionably the better coordinated in both the tackle and defence.

England had a strong opening in which they conceded a few chances to Australia. England deservedly led 4-2. Australia took quick advantage of England's errors in the second period and levelled the scores at half time. England were under pressure throughout the third period and Australia held the initiative deservedly and were 10-9 ahead at three-quarter time.

They got a bang out of lacrosse

The Australian lacrosse team thought it was being attacked when a cannon exploded during one of its games against a US university.

"The first explosion nearly gave us all heart failure," Australian coach John Forrester said yesterday after the seven SA members of the team had arrived home.

The cannon was used by the university's cheer squad to encourage its team.

"We were quite relieved and then amused as we watched the squad struggle up and down the field with the cannon at the end of each quarter," Forrester said.

The team finished with an impressive record of eight wins from 13 matches.

With an average age of only 22, the Australian side has a solid foundation for its preparation to win the world Cup series in Manchester in the UK in 1978.

In one game, against Washington and Lee University, the team was joined by a kangaroo during its warm-up. The 'roo turned out to be a costumed university official.

Team members used their lacrosse sticks to 'herd' up the rabbits living next to the strip before the team itself was 'herded' off by US naval police.

There will be little rest for SA team members Ray Duthy, Warren Hobbs, Paul Lynch, Nigel Hudson, Evan Jones, John Tomlin and Leigh Van Der Peer.

After two months overseas most will return to club teams for Saturday's district matches.—TONY BECKER.

Australians Slosh Past Generals, 10-8

Lexington, March 21, 1962 — A touring Australian lacrosse team splashed through the rain and mud to a 10-8 victory over Washington and Lee here today.

Paced by attackmen Fred Neill and Trevor Campbell, the Aussies broke open a 4-4 contest with three goals in the third period. Neill and Campbell each accounted for one of the scores.

Fighting back desperately, Washington and Lee trimmed the Australian margin to 8-7 midway through the fourth period on two straight goals by mid-fielder John McDaniel, but the Generals could come no closer.

Neill and Campbell were the keys to the Australian attack with three goals apiece. Neill had an assist. Australia struck first, jumping off to an early 3-1 lead.

Neill and Campbell were the keys to the Australian attack with three goals apiece. Neill had an assist. Australia struck first, jumping off to an early 3-1 lead behind a two-goal effort of attackman Brian Griffin. But by halftime, Washington and Lee had charged into a 4-4 tie on scores by defenseman Bart Mitchell, mid-fielder Charlie Gummey and attackman Carroll Klingel-hofer.

Senior Ray Miller, playing his first game for W&L in the goal, turned in an excellent performance. The ex-attacker made 16 saves, including several which appeared to be sure goals.

Australia, which is 2-1 on its tour meets the University of Maryland at College Park Saturday in its next game.

THANK YOU

The nominal admission charge for today's game with the Australian All-Stars goes to a worthy cause. Half of it will go toward offsetting the Australians' travel expenses; the other half to help finance a group of U. S. All-Stars who will tour Australia later. Some of those U. S. All-Stars could be men who are playing for W&L in today's game.
